

MAYOR SCHMITZ TO REMAIN OUT ON BAIL

Trial of Indicted Official Postponed One Day

City's Executive Appears in Court.

"In view of the unauthorized statements that have appeared in the local press, and on account of the understanding that may have been assumed from them by the defense, I desire to say at this time that the state has no present intention of asking the court to order the defendant into custody pending his trial."—Assistant District Attorney Heney.

SAN FRANCISCO, May 20—Mayor Eugene Schmitz appeared for trial at 10 o'clock this morning in Judge Dunne's department of the Supreme Court on five Grand Jury charges of extorting money from local keepers of French restaurants. By request of the prosecution the hearing was continued for one day in order that counter affidavits may be prepared against Schmitz's motion for a change of trial judges.

Assistant District Attorney Heney created a surprise by announcing that the State has no present intention of asking the court to take the mayor into custody pending his trial. Schmitz is at liberty under five bail bonds aggregating $50,000.

At five minutes before 10 o'clock the mayor accompanied by his counsel, Campbell, Drew Barrett and Fairall entered the courtroom and took a seat between the counsel table and the table reserved for the newspaper men. The mayor looked pale and glum.

For the prosecution there appeared District Attorney Langdon, Assistant District Attorneys Heney and Harrison, Special Prosecutor Johnson and Attorneys Cobb and Dwyer. Rudolph Spreckels, Elisor Biggy and Special Agent Burns took seats near the counsel table. The room was crowded even the aisle being filled.

Before taking up the Schmitz hearing, Judge Dunne continued by consent for thirty days the case of perjury against Chief of Police Dinan and the cases against Dinan and Abraham Ruef.

Clerk McManus called the names of the 77 talesmen remaining from the last ordinary venire summoned in the Ruef case. Forty-three of them were present.

"The people against Eugene E. Schmitz, causes 303 to 307, for trial," announced Judge Dunne.

"Defendant is ready your honor," replied Attorney Campbell.

District Attorney Langdon stated that on Saturday night last the

GOVERNOR GILLETT OFFERS SERVICES TO COMMITTEE OF SEVEN

MAYOR SCHMITZ.

SAN FRANCISCO, May 20—Governor Gillett arrived at 11:30 o'clock today but did not go to the meeting of the Committee of Seven as was expected. He had a talk over the telephone with Chairman Anderson. The Governor is taking a hands-off attitude toward affairs so long as he feels that conditions do not call for State interference.

"I have offered to consult with the committee whenever they so desire," said Governor Gillett. "I am anxious to do anything I can to assist in meeting the need of San Francisco at the present time, but there is nothing to call for any initiative act on my part. I am simply at the service of the city and those who represent it officially."

When asked whether the discovery of the dynamite bomb would have any influence on his attitude, Governor Gillett said it would not. "That is a matter for the police," he said. "The appearance of dynamite does not mean riot or disorder necessarily. The city seems to be very peaceful and I shall simply go on attending to business that I have here."

After remaining in secret session for two hours to lay the Committee of Seven which is considering methods for improving municipal conditions adjourned at 1 o'clock this afternoon until 2:30 p. m. Its proceedings will not be made public until after the afternoon session.

LANGDON IS TO MAKE GEARY STREET ROAD SURRENDER

SAN FRANCISCO, May 20—District Attorney Langdon today is taking the case of the runaway horse and carriage on Geary street.

This action would be in a court with legal action taken about 10 o'clock yesterday when the franchise of this road had expired a temporary license to continue operation was granted with the reservation that upon demand to do so it would be turned over to the city. District Attorney Langdon today is taking the case of the runaway horse and carriage on Geary street.

BLONDE GIRL AND CONDUCTOR CLASH

She Sues Former Sweetheart for Ring

For the recovery of a can of ring valued at about $250 Miss May Brown, a blonde girl, is suing a former sweetheart who is now a conductor on the Alameda line of the Great Northern company. Her suit was brought up in Judge Quinn's court and has been pending for several days awaiting the appearance of May in the court room. A bench warrant was probably issued for her arrest as she does not appear very soon.

Up to recently Mr. May and Miss Brown were staunch friends but upon the fair one finding out that he had married his sweetheart with other than their friendship, she was so hurt that she had broken their friendship. It was a new trial and they were so much to harmoniously agree when all of a sudden they had what is commonly known as a lover's quarrel which had severed their friendship. The plaintiff and the defendant were supposed to have been engaged to be married. Instead of Miss Brown having received the ring from Mr. May she presented it to him.

BEATS WIFE TO DEATH WITH HIS HEAVY BOOTS

SAN FRANCISCO, May 20—Frank Murphy, of 108 Rose street, was arrested this morning and charged with killing his wife by kicking out her brain with his heavy boots. The crime was committed before daylight this morning. The police, summoned by a neighbor who heard the dying woman's groans, forced open the door of the house and groped their way to the bedroom where on the floor they found the dead and horribly mangled body of Mrs. Murphy. The fact had been almost as bad as the skull had been crushed. Murphy fully dressed was huddled on the bed sound asleep and snoring. His feet hung over the edge of the bed. His heavy boots were smeared with blood. He was stupid and refused to talk but was able to walk to the police station. He is a house dealer by occupation.

SENDS YOUTH TO PRISON

Ambrose Carpenter
Is Given a Year

AMBROSE CARPENTER

Judge Henry A. Melvin has this morning in his court sentenced Ambrose Carpenter to a year in the county jail for a crime which he committed in the city of San Francisco. The defendant was arrested on a warrant issued by the district attorney of San Francisco, charging him with the crime of larceny of a watch and jewelry. The watch and jewelry were found in the possession of the defendant at the time he was arrested. The defendant was arrested on May 15th last.

When the court sentenced Carpenter to a year in the county jail, he was given the option of paying a fine of $100 or serving the term. The defendant chose to serve the term. The court also ordered that the defendant be confined in the county jail for a period of 30 days before he is sent to the state prison.

SPEEDY TRIAL FOR SCHMITZ PROMISED

No Delay, Says the Prosecution

(Tribune Special Correspondence.)
SAN FRANCISCO, May 20.—The case of Mayor Schmitz charged with extortion of the sum of $110 was brought on this morning in Judge Dunne's court until 10 o'clock tomorrow morning at the request of the district attorney who stated that he had not been able to prepare counter affidavits to those of the defense asking for a change of venue.

In the case of the prosecution, Assistant District Attorney Henry Campbell stated that he had not been able to prepare counter affidavits to those of the defense asking for a change of venue. The request for the continuance of the case as stated by District Attorney Langdon was refused by Judge Dunne on the ground that it was after 6 o'clock last evening long after his office had closed. The affidavits in which was based the motion for the change of venue had been filed with him.

Mr. Langdon stated to the court that he had not had time since then to prepare counter affidavits for that reason asked the continuance. COURT ROOM CROWDED
The little court room in the synagogue, Schmitz Island was crowded almost to suffocation with people. This was in contrast with the condition of the place during the week which was spent securing a jury for the trial of Abraham Ruef, who a few days ago pleaded guilty and who had been jointly indicted with Mayor Schmitz on the charge of extortion.

The charge however is only one of five pending against both these men. The people from whom it is alleged money was extorted being the proprietors of French restaurants in this city.

Schmitz was attended by a number of attorneys. He appeared alert to everything that was transpiring in the room. He was represented by Attorney J. P. Campbell, the firm of Campbell, Matson and Drew, as chief counsel. Frank Drew, J. J. Barrett and Judge Fairall.

MAYOR'S COUNSEL
Campbell is a man advanced in years. He presented the appearance of a gentleman of the old school who had studied and practiced law long before any of the attorneys for the prosecution or even his own associates had embraced the legal profession. At the same time however he appeared to be alive to the importance of the situation. His demeanor toward opposition counsel and the court was deferential in the extreme.

The prosecution was represented by District Attorney Langdon, Assistant District Attorney Henry Campbell, who had conducted the examination of the witnesses in the Ruef case, and W. H. Cobb, Henry's law partner. There were also present Rudolph Spreckels who is the representative of the man who was charged with the graft investigation, Detective W. T. Dunne who has worked up all the cases four in this municipal graft and Mayor B. A. who is now in charge of Ruef alleged to extort money with Schmitz, who has already pleaded guilty to the charge which Schmitz now proposes to fight.

JUDGE DUNNE LATE
Judge Dunne was late in ascending the bench and when he called the attention of the People's Eugene Schmitz, Attorney Campbell immediately answered that the defense was ready. Campbell at the same time turned toward counsel for the prosecution and District Attorney Langdon and said:

Last Saturday evening after 6 o'clock and long after office hours the district attorney was served with an affidavit not to that a motion would be made to have another judge sit in this case. I have not been able to prepare counter affidavits in reply to the affidavit which I now hold and no could therefore, set to have the case continued until tomorrow so that we may be able to file a counter affidavit.

Could you, said Mr. Campbell to the district attorney, present us with a copy of the counter affidavit any time before midnight tonight, so that we may be able to reply to it when the subject comes up tomorrow?

We will not argue the motion, we will simply present the affidavit and submit the question.

We will have a copy of the affidavit at your office before 6 o'clock tonight. I would like to know, said Campbell, if the jury who are to be examined in this case were subpoenaed by the district attorney. Some of them were subpoenaed by the district attorney. Some of them were subpoenaed by the district attorney.

At your office before 6 o'clock tonight. I would like to know, said Campbell, if the jury who are to be examined in this case were subpoenaed by the district attorney. Some of them were subpoenaed by the district attorney. Some of them were subpoenaed by the district attorney.

Dr. Gulgin has just closed the month's meetings at San Jose where the audiences averaged 4000 daily and 700 conversions are reported.

WOULD DESTROY COSTLY BRIDGE

Small Boys Believed to Design
Burning of Eighth Street
Structure.

That an effort is being made to burn down the Eighth street bridge is the opinion of Assistant Superintendent of Streets W. W. Blair. Another blaze broke out near the bridge this morning and would have set fire to the structure had not a timely discovery of the fire been made.

Last Saturday morning a similar fire was started but the blaze was extinguished after several hours' hard work. The rubbish near the structure had been ignited and had a wind been blowing the bridge might have been fired with disastrous results.

Mr. Blair believes that the fires were started by mischievous small boys for the fun of seeing the bridge catch fire and make a lively blaze. A guard is to be kept all night on the bridge in the future to prevent any further incendiary attempts.

HAYWOOD CASE DRAGGING ALONG

Defense Uses Fifth Preremptory

BOISE, Idaho, May 20.—The number of talesmen available to fill the constantly occurring vacancies in the jury that is being formed to try William D. Haywood for the alleged murder of Frank Steunenberg continues to shrink and it now seems certain that another special venire of fifty or one hundred talesmen must be issued early this week.

Some of the counsel were of the opinion this morning that the last of the special veniremen would be reached this afternoon and that it would be necessary for the court to take an adjournment to give time for the summoning of the new special venire. There was a scant attendance of spectators when the trial was resumed this morning and the court took up the work of filling the vacancy created on Saturday by the ninth preremptory challenge. The Haywood family was absent. A number of witnesses including Bulkley Wells of Colorado were in the courtroom. The prisoners sat close to his counsel and frequently consulted with them as to the talesmen under examination.

The defense exercised its fifth preremptory challenge at 11:40 on Joseph Chinn in the eighth chair. Ten preremptory challenges have now been used and twenty-three talesmen remain to be examined.

COURT OPENS.

Court opened at 10 o'clock. The defense proceeded with the examination of T. C. Declercq in the fifth chair. When today's court session opened, Clarence S. Darrow, for the defense, continued the examination of T. C. Declercq, a rancher who was called to the stand No. 5 in the jury box just before court adjourned last Saturday. After a long examination Declercq declared that his mind was pretty well made up. He was excused.

Nearly half an hour was consumed in the examination of the next talesman, George W. Masters, a rancher, who came to Idaho from Kansas. He finally asserted that the opinion which at first he had stated was not a fixed one, but would require strong evidence to remove. Masters was challenged by both sides and stepped down.

HAD PREJUDICES.
Frank Marcellus, rancher originally from Illinois, was excused by counsel after he stated that he had some prejudice against circumstantial evidence and had expressed an unqualified opinion.

George Powell also a rancher, and a native of Kansas finally proved acceptable to both sides and took up his place as Juror No. 8. Mr. Powell said he had neither opinion nor prejudice in the matter. He is about sixty years of age, with grizzled hair. The defense then was called upon to exercise its fifth preremptory challenge. It was directed against Joseph Chinn at No. 6. Chinn is a hack driver and a Democrat. George Fletcher, president of a local bank, was the first talesman to be examined.

PLANNING VAST ELECTRIC PLANT

Oakland to Have Another Big Enterprise

Millions of capital, tremendous financial aid and a well-planned and magnificent industrial movement that promises to be a great benefit to each resident of this city sums up the latest enterprise that will add one more page to the history of Oakland's unprecedented success.

This organization will be known as the Western Power Company. Its business will be the transmission and sale of electric energy. It has now located a site here for a mammoth power station which will be one of the main supply headquarters that will connect the initial plant in Los Angeles with the town surrounding the bay. It is needless to add that competition will follow and that the new organization is prepared to debate the question of patronage with the Bay Counties and Standard in the sale of electric service.

SITE OF POWER PLANT.

The site of the new power plant will be adjacent to the Sessions basin, east of the north arm of the estuary into Lake Merritt, adjoining the property of the American Magnesia Company at the foot of South avenue. This property was acquired without any beating of the big drum. The deals were originally made out to individual purchasers and it was not until plans had fully matured that the real object of the transfers was made known.

The main sources of supply will be located in the Sierra Nevada Mountains, near to where the main line of the Western Pacific crosses the mountains through the Beckwith Pass. The site selected here will be the main distributing point for Oakland.

IDENTICAL INTERESTS.

That the new company is closely identified with the Western Pacific interests in New York City there can be no shadow of doubt. At its head is Edwin Hawley and among the directors of the company are found many of those men associated with the movement of the Gould millions.

It is stated by those in a position to know that the new company will enter the field as an active competitor of the Standard and Bay Counties for support and to that end will parallel both the other lines. To estimate the tremendousness of this undertaking it is necessary to remember that not only Oakland and San Francisco will be supplied by power, but Sacramento, Stockton, Oroville and Marysville will also be included.

BENEFIT TO MANUFACTURING.
Of course it goes without saying that the coming invasion of the electric will mean much to manufacturing. It will mean the cost of motive and light power and incidentally it will inaugurate an appreciable increase in commercial, manufacturing and industrial lines. It is a noteworthy fact that the site on Sessions basin which has been selected is on the line of the Western Pacific into Oakland, just where the new road starts to cross from East Oakland. This has given rise to a repetition of the rumor that the Western Pacific proposes to use electricity for a great part of its motive power. With the Western Power Company's plan allied, there is apparently good grounds for this current talk in railway circles.

PURCHASE OF SITE.

The purchase of the Oakland site, which covers several acres, represents an investment of a sum said to be above $100,000 for the land bare of improvements. The secrecy manifested as to that transaction is not equal to the efforts made to conceal the detailed plans as to the line of the company into the city. It is confidently believed by engineers who have been informed generally as to the new move that the line will come in by way of Sacramento, feeding across the country, and probably touch at desirable manufacturing points along the river and upper bay.

That the Western Power Company is linked closely with Western Pacific interests has been known for months, but that its plans comprehended the development of an enormous independent power system is made public now for the first time. It is declared that the investment represents a capital running into the millions and that active work on the power plant and the transmission system will be commenced all along the line very soon.

RECAPTURE THE BOLD "BAREFOOT"

REPORTER IS HIS NEMESIS Criminal Is Escaped Prisoner From San Francisco Jail.

LOS ANGELES, May 20.—J. D. Fleener, known as the "barefoot burglar," who was sentenced from Los Angeles to fourteen years in San Quentin for robbery and who escaped from jail in San Francisco last Wednesday, was captured in this city yesterday. A patrolman saw a negro in the Santa Fe Railroad yards about 3:30 o'clock in the morning and he arrested the man on suspicion. The patrolman was called to take the negro to the police station. Just as the wagon was entering the station the negro made an effort to escape. He broke away from the officer, but a newspaper reporter who was standing near tripped the negro and he fell on his face, but got up instantly and ran before the officers could reach him. He was chased for about a block and entered a blind alley, where he was cornered and captured by a policeman and the reporter. Sheriff Hammet and Captain of Detectives Flannery last night positively identified the man as Fleener. The negro finally admitted his identity.

TULE GROWING LACKS SUCCESS

Rushes Transplanted From San Mateo County Do Not Come Up to Standard.

From the following communication and report, filed with the Board of Supervisors today, it would appear that the cultivation of tules for the manufacture of rush matting has not as yet been successful in this county as hoped.

To the Honorable Board of Supervisors of Alameda county, Gentlemen: In 1905 your Honorable body appropriated $150 towards defraying the expenses of an experiment station for raising tules for the purpose of manufacturing matting. This enterprise was started by the Oakland Board of Trade with the able assistance of the Agricultural Department of the University of California. The Board of Trade expended quite a large sum of money toward making a success of the undertaking, which, it is believed, meant the establishment of a large manufacturing industry. The University of California took full charge of the station and freely furnished the men to cultivate and care for the plants as well as to select the most suitable tules for the purpose. It has been found that the soil or other conditions are not favorable to the growth of the tule to the proper length as required for the manufacture of matting. The University of California, very respectfully, OAKLAND CHAMBER OF COMMERCE, Pres. Frank W. Bligh, President, Edwin Stearns, Secretary.

ROBERT MANSELL'S REPORT.

The report of Robert Mansell follows: "During the winter of '04, '05 and '06 a further study was made of the tule (Juncus effusus) upon the low-lying lands in the vicinity of Alameda, with a view of determining if it would be possible to grow there the matting tules of sufficient length to be used for commercial purposes. It was found that the tule could be grown to a length of 10 to 12 feet, but that the growth was not uniform and that the plants were not of sufficient length to be used for commercial purposes. It was found that the tule could be grown to a length of 10 to 12 feet, but that the growth was not uniform and that the plants were not of sufficient length to be used for commercial purposes."

"On the ranch of McKernin at Elmhurst, a small area was found which was considered a very favorable place to grow the tule. The growth was not uniform and that the plants were not of sufficient length to be used for commercial purposes. It was found that the tule could be grown to a length of 10 to 12 feet, but that the growth was not uniform and that the plants were not of sufficient length to be used for commercial purposes."

RUSHES TRANSPLANTED.

"At Lake Merced on the property of the Spring Valley Water Company, a large number of plants of the Juncus effusus were found growing in the water. The plants were removed from the lake and transplanted on the land. The growth was not uniform and that the plants were not of sufficient length to be used for commercial purposes."

The funeral will take place Wednesday morning at her late employer's home.

COMES MADE FROM COWS' MILK.

"From Cow's Milk to Cambrella Handkerchiefs" will be the subject of an article dealing with a unique product discovered by scientists in France. The department of chemistry at the Washington State college has received two cases containing handkerchiefs made from the cows' milk. The technical name given to the manufactured product is "Cambrella." The handkerchiefs are made from a chemical substance known as "Cambrella" and are said to be of great value in the treatment of various diseases.

A RECORD BREAKER.

It is said that the greatest and quickest permanent advertising success on record is that of Cascares, Candy Cathartic, which have been persistently advertised in every way but chiefly in newspapers for about ten years. In that time the sale of Cascares has grown from nothing to over one million boxes a month. This wonderful record is the result of great merit successfully made known. Those who tried Cascares as a direct result of advertising, were pleased and recommended the article to their friends, until its fame was spread to become universal.

ABLE DIVINE'S STRIKING THEME

"Man's Need of a Hiding Place" Discussed From Several Points of View.

HAYWARD, May 20.—"Man's need of a hiding place" was the striking subject of Rev. Mr. Rogers' sermon at the Presbyterian church yesterday morning suggested by the text from Isaiah 32:2.

The reverend gentleman treated his subject under four heads—the need of a hiding place from an accusing conscience, from the power of sin within, from the power of the devil, and from the wrath to come. All were treated in his usual vigorous style, but it was upon the second point that his utterances were perhaps most vigorous. Speaking upon the passion for gambling he said:

"This gambling spirit seems to be getting complete control over the lives of so-called society women. If the law of the land were pushed to its proper limit they would be behind the bars. It may be hard to frame an argument against gambling that will hold in logic, but satirized lives speak louder than any syllogism.

"Is it true that hostesses are found who will permit young men whose honesty is their all, to depart from their drawing rooms impoverished by losses at cards? If it be true, I say, shame! Your drawing room then becomes a hell trap for the unwary."

"Is it true that young women required to be of good family exhibit with pride the jewels bought out of the winnings at the gambling table? Could anything be more infamous? What avails a crusade against pool rooms and policy shops if such things go on behind doors that no detective ventures to pass? This playing for prizes is a species of gambling. In Christian land women are the custodians of morals. Men are largely what the influence of women make them. If women play bridge you need not look for men in the prayer meeting. The more rapidly the men desert the practice of public worship, substituting the club and the lodge room for the house of prayer, the more is this supremacy of women as possessors of sacred interests and the arbiters of conduct accentuated and defined."

AN IMPERFECT DESCRIPTION. William S. Gilbert's pungentness, in the matter of good English is well known. The famous composer was one day standing outside his club when he was met by a man who said: "I beg your pardon, but do you know a gentleman, a member of this club, with me eye, called 'Mugger'?" "I can't tell," responded Mr. Gilbert. "What is the name of his other eye?"

CROWN AND DOVE ARE BORNE ALOFT

PORTUGUESE CELEBRATE

Observe Pentecost as in Ancient Lisbon.

HAYWARD, May 20.—The great national and religious celebration of Pentecost, transplanted to these shores by the Portuguese, began here Saturday evening, with great pomp and ceremony. Shortly after dark preceded by the Hayward band a procession of young girls, clothed in purest white, transferred the crown and dove from the residence of Mrs. Nunes-Silva on Fourth and C streets, to the little chapel on First street. To Miss Lena Silva was given the honor of bearing the golden crown, and to Minnie Oliveira, the dove. Following in their train were the four little Misses, Anna, Bernard, Patricia, and Maria. Soon as the children had deposited the objects of their veneration on the altar prepared for their reception, the signal for general rejoicing was given by a grand display of fireworks and the rest of the evening was devoted to feasting and dancing at Native Sons' hall.

Yesterday the procession was reformed, and the crown and dove carried in the same stately way as on the preceding night to the church of All Souls, where solemn high mass, to the accompaniment of an enlarged choir, was celebrated at 11 o'clock. Rev. Father Hurley, celebrant. Father Villanov, deacon, and Father Richard, of San Jose, sub-deacon. The sermon on the gospel of the day was preached by the pastor in the Portuguese tongue.

HOSPITALITY REIGNS. After church the symbols of the celebration were returned to the temporary chapel and everyone who visited the surrounding grounds throughout the day, irrespective of creed or nationality, was treated with open-handed hospitality. In this manner the Portuguese at home celebrate their marvelous deliverance from famine which was brought about by their saintly queen, Isabella, in 1531.

Later in the day the offerings of the people, in the shape of cattle, sheep, and every variety of produce were gathered by the committees in charge. These will be sold during the progress of the celebration which will close with more feasting, dancing and fireworks tonight. The proceeds of the sale will be distributed later among the deserving poor of the neighborhood.

THOSE IN CHARGE. The celebration was under the direction of J. D. Oliveira, assisted by the following committees: Arrangements, P. Silva, R. Foster, John Fonseca, Decorations, Mr. Mary Casar, Mrs. R. Foster, Mrs. I. Machado, Mrs. Della Suarez, Mrs. Louisa Conlho, Floor director, J. H. Woods, assistants, A. Cuit, E. A. Maser, J. T. Lewis, Joseph Jenson, E. C. Vargas.

PENTECOST AT SAN LEANDRO. SAN LEANDRO, May 20.—The great Portuguese celebration of Pentecost began here on Saturday evening when the Brotherhood of the Holy Ghost, met with their families at I. D. E. S. hall to welcome the procession of young people who acted as escort to the crown and dove. The procession of white-robed children started shortly after dark from the Pritas residence and, escorted by the San Leandro band and members of the brotherhood, marched to the hall. In the center of the procession were four little flower girls, May Silva, May Gonzalez, Emma Duque, and Verdie Vargas. They were followed by Miss May Martin with the crown, and Miss Rose Miguel with the dove, attended by the Misses Rosa Silva, Eva Vargas, Frances King and Mary Rogers.

As soon as the symbols had been deposited in the little chapel which had been prepared for their reception, the entire assemblage hastened to the grounds which had been handsomely decorated, and illuminated for the occasion, and witnessed a handsome display of fireworks. The fireworks took possession of the pavilion and enjoyed dancing until midnight.

RELIGIOUS CELEBRATION. The religious features of the celebration took place at the church of St. Leander yesterday morning, whether the crown and dove were carried in procession as on the previous evening, and deposited near the altar. Solemn high mass was then celebrated, with Rev. Father O'Mahoney as celebrant, Father Cranwell as deacon, and Father Sousa as sub-deacon. After the gospel, Father Sousa preached on the Gospel of the day, and in the course of his remarks gave a historical account of the event which the natives of Portugal, wherever they may happen to be, never fail to commemorate.

ORIGIN OF FESTIVAL. According to the reverend gentleman, Canon Isabella, in the early part of the fourteenth century, the first Catholic church in Lisbon was dedicated to the Holy Ghost. Subsequently, in the reign of her husband, King Dinis, a great famine overtook the country and during the height of the suffering the feast of Pentecost, which is the feast of the Holy Ghost, was celebrated, the king and queen attended church in their royal robes. After mass the king and queen surrounded the saintly queen as she left the church and implored her to kneel with them and pray for deliverance from their extremity. According to their wishes she knelt with them in prayer, and while so engaged, a white dove, emblem of the Holy Ghost, dropped from the heavens and alighted on her crown. Most wonderful still, on arising from their prayer two vessels were seen in the Bay of Lisbon, loaded with provisions which were immediately distributed among the needy.

After the queen's death she was canonized by the church and in remembrance of her the children of Portugal have commemorated the miraculous event in her life by carrying her crown to church on the feast of Pentecost, wherever they may be.

PRODUCE AT AUCTION. Yesterday afternoon the L. D. E. S. grounds were thronged with people and the hospitalities of the society were rendered on a large scale while the band

ESCAPES WITH CRUSHED FOOT

Pleasanton Schoolboy Crossing Between Freight Cars Injured.

PLEASANTON, May 20.—Harold Alsford had a narrow escape from serious injury on Friday afternoon while crossing the railway tracks through a waiting freight train. He was returning home from school and with several other boys had tried to wait for the train to move. Several got through between two box-cars, but the train was backed up just as Harold was half way over and his foot was caught in the couplings and slightly crushed. Drs. Wells and Cope, who thought that no permanent injury would result, although the swelling prevents the doctors from being able to determine definitely how seriously the boy's foot is hurt.

Will M. Castleman, who has occupied a position in the local Southern Pacific depot for two and a half years, has resigned and will leave with his family a few weeks to take up his residence in Hayward, where he will be employed by the J. T. Stone Company.

The Pleasanton Matinee Club had several races on Saturday afternoon. There was a fair attendance of the public.

Miss Eda Utendoeffer took a trip to Oakland and San Francisco on Saturday and Sunday.

T. C. Johnston, who is taking a trip around the world, has written another of his interesting letters—this one from Sicily.

BAPTIST NOTES FROM MELROSE

Large Attendance Noted at Sunday School—Church to be Dedicated Shortly.

MELROSE, May 20.—The Baptist Sunday School at this place presents an encouraging outlook. Sunday, May 12, the attendance registered 102, and yesterday there were 106 present. Several of the boys and girls have secured their first pin in the "Cross and Crown" series of pins.

The church and Sunday School expect to occupy their new building about the second Sunday in June. Rev. F. C. Stannard, the pastor, preached at Dixon, Cal., Sunday, May 12, and Rev. Mr. Pruden preached here in his stead.

Last Wednesday evening Mrs. Koppel united with the church by letter from the First Baptist Church, San Francisco. Mrs. Wenker, her mother, has been a member with us for some time. Mrs. Koppel, a native of Germany, was accepted as a candidate for baptism and will probably be the first to be baptized in the new building. Pastor Stannard and family, who now live at California College, expect to move to Melrose about June 1. The Superintendent of the Sunday School and his wife are happy over the arrival of a new baby boy at their home. He will no doubt be enrolled in due time in the Sunday School.

played constantly until midnight. The evening was devoted to an exchange of goods and services. The people today an auction was held to dispose of a large amount of produce contributed by the people from the grounds, where the expenses of the celebration will be met.

COMMITTEE IN CHARGE. The committee of arrangements, which has the management of the fair, was composed of the following officers and members of the L. D. E. S.: President, Manuel Martin; Vice-president, J. C. Vargas; Secretary, L. C. Martin; Treasurer, J. A. Cunha; directors, Frank S. Dutra, Joseph P. Duran, Carlos Vargas, J. F. Silva and J. C. Bettencourt.

LABOR LEAGUE IN GERMANY

Many Unions Organize to Battle With the Terrors of Social Democracy.

HAMBURG, May 20.—The fatherland labor league, consisting of thirty-seven labor unions from all parts of the empire, was organized here yesterday for the purpose of combating the terrors of social democracy and its terrorism in business and politics. Telegrams expressing warm sympathy with the objects of the league were received from Emperor William and the imperial chancellor, Prince von Buelow.

HOW CASEY WON BET. John Call, a negro, who lives from Harrisonville, Mo., rented a house in the northeastern part of the city. He fell behind in his rent and refused to move out. The landlord, W. L. BIG MACHINE TO KILL RUST

American Trade in Manchuria.

When the Japanese opened southern Manchuria to foreign trade and retained the Liaotung peninsula and the Manchurian railroad from Dalny and Newchwang to Moukden, as the fruits of a successful war, it was assumed in many quarters that American trade would not profit from the change, as the Japanese would make it impossible for American manufactures to gain a footing in the Manchurian markets. It now develops that in one respect, at least, namely, in the manufacture of railroad supplies and equipment the United States has been specially favored. After the close of the Russo-Japanese war the Tokyo government decided to reconstruct the south Manchurian railway at its various branches. It is intended that the reconstructed line, fully equipped with new rolling stock, shall be ready for business within two years from Dalny to Moukden.

It was to the United States that the Japanese looked for rails and rolling stock equipment, and since then over $20,000,000 is represented to have entered this country from Japan to cover the big orders given to the steel manufacturers and car builders of the country for rails, cars and locomotives. It is understood, moreover, that an addition of over $5,000,000 will be spent in this country for railroad supplies before the south Manchurian railroad will be fully completed.

For a long time past every steamship leaving Pacific Coast ports bound for the Orient has carried in its cargo American manufactured material destined for this Japanese railroad, and that without the public having any knowledge of what was happening. The telegraphic report from New York of the extent of the Japanese investments here will be a surprise to most people, and it is a complete refutation of the assumption that the transfer of Japanese jurisdiction over Corea and Manchuria and the opening of Manchurian and Korean ports to foreign trade could not possibly benefit this country. In one line of trade we have evidently been benefited to the extent of $25,000,000 already, and, inasmuch as the Japanese possess a thorough knowledge of the value of railroads as commercial agents, and that it is their policy to open up with railroads all the territory under their control for the expansion of trade, it may be accepted as a certainty that American industries are sure to get their share of benefit from new Japanese railway construction.

One of the greatest of Japan's living generals paid a touching tribute to the greatest of America's dead soldiers when Kuroki visited the tomb of Grant at Riverside the other day and placed a laurel wreath upon it.

So after all, the Prince of the Asturias is to be wet nursed, as his royal mother must henceforth devote herself to other objects than the maternal duty of suckling her own offspring.

Oakland's wide-awake suburbs on the east are responding to the impulse of change in the status of the parent community. The spirit of enterprise has been aroused in all of them and improvements, private and public, constitute the order of the day with each one.

The McCarthy anti-trust law passed by the last Legislature is credited with having smashed the meat trust and dissolved the combination between the Standard and Associated Oil companies which controlled the output of the upper San Joaquin valley oil fields. The dissolution of this combine has been the means of compelling both companies to relinquish their grip on the resources of production and the marketing and delivery of the output of the proprietors of independent well owners. The price of crude oil from all of the Fresno and Kern county oil fields has, consequently, materially advanced.

A PASSENGER STATION FOR OAKLAND.

EDITOR TRIBUNE: IN THE TRIBUNE of Wednesday evening, April 24, appeared the headline "Harriman Is to Come West." His visit to this coast is for the purpose of looking up and improving terminal sites, particularly in San Francisco. The paragraph, continuing, says:

"The company (Southern Pacific) has already decided to erect a new passenger station in Los Angeles costing $750,000, a new passenger station for Sacramento costing $225,000 and a new passenger station for Salt Lake San Francisco, the biggest and most important city in the West, is the problem to be decided by Harriman himself."

How much is to be spent on a new passenger station for Oakland, which is rapidly coming to the front as a big and important city?

San Francisco's passenger buildings are old and must go. Is the passenger depot in this city at Sixteenth street so much better than the San Francisco depot at Third and Townsend streets that it must remain as a "survival of the fittest?"

Do Mr. Harriman and the railroad officials consider Oakland only as a way station, deserving only of a barn-like structure for a depot with the proverbial ticket office? Surely this city is undergoing reconstruction as well as San Francisco. Handsome and luxurious hotels and apartment-houses are being and about to be erected in this city. What is the result? It means a large tourist and transient population will come to Oakland.

If first impressions are lasting, what must be the views of these visitors as they alight at Sixteenth street station? Isn't Oakland deserving of a better entrance than the one now in existence?

Oakland is far, far ahead of Sacramento both in population and business, yet Sacramento is entitled to a new passenger station costing $225,000. Are we in this city not at least as worthy of recognition?

When Mr. Harriman comes West, let the facts of Oakland's growth be duly impressed upon his mind. Let him "be shown," as it were, that it is to the railroad's interest as well as to Oakland's to have a new, modern and up-to-date terminal for the entry and departure of people to and from this city.

Let Oakland have a new passenger station costing $500,000.

PRIVATEERING RENOUNCED LONG AGO.

Privateering was renounced for themselves by the powers signatory to the declaration of Paris in 1856—namely, Great Britain, Austria, France, Prussia, Russia, Sardinia and Turkey. The United States did not participate in this action. At the outbreak of the Civil war the United States addressed the powers in a request to be permitted to accede to the declaration of Paris. To this Great Britain and France would consent only on such terms as would leave privateering open to the confederacy and the negotiations were discontinued. In the last war both the United States and Spain announced their intention to abide by the principles of the declaration. Conditions have so changed that privateering need not be reckoned in any account of sea power.

Another Oakland Industry.

When the Western Power Company was organized some time ago for the purpose of developing light and power from the energy contained in the streams of the Sierra, it was intimated that the company was one of the Western Pacific Railway offshoots and that its product would be utilized to furnish power for the operation of a system of electric railway feeders to the main line which it has been planned to construct. Its incorporators were recognized as men closely associated with all of Gould's interests. According to a more recent report, the Western Power Company will enter the field as a competitor to both the Bay Counties and the Standard companies to supply light and power for the towns and cities which these two corporations are now serving under a friendly arrangement which eliminates competition.

But the features of this new power manufacturing development which most interests Oakland at the present time is the acquisition by the corporation of a tract of land near the East Oakland water front and the right of way of the Western Pacific, on which it is announced a mammoth electric distributing plant is to be erected. That means, of course, the addition of another important industry to the group of manufacturing which has been established in that quarter during the last two years. It is intimated, also, that the electric energy delivered here by the Western Power Company will be utilized for the operation of local trains. It has become the fixed policy of the transportation companies already operating local railways in the city to employ electricity instead of steam as the motive power, and it is not unreasonable to suppose that the Western Pacific will thus equip its local lines here from the start and thereby save the cost of conversion. Whatever may be the field occupied by the new enterprise its location among the industries of Oakland is heartily welcome. It represents the erection of a new milestone in the road of local progress.

No plant should be given nourishment if it shows plain signs of still remaining sufficient for immediate wants. "Dribblers" are not beneficial, the ideal way to water a plant is to immerse the whole pot in a pail of water from a quarter to half an hour.—Garden.

The annual production of coke has quadrupled in the last twenty-five years and is now about 33,000,000 tons. Nine-tenths of all, says the Scientific American, is yet made in beehive ovens. Coke is mainly used for smelting iron ore, in a total production for the United States of 23,000,000 tons of pig iron last year.

Lincoln's Inn contains the oldest library in London, it having been originally built in 1497, in the reign of Henry VII. In 1676 the library came into possession of all the manuscripts of Sir Matthew Hale, who had bequeathed them to the inn. The inn is also famous for its beautiful old Gothic wall, which still fronts Chancery Lane.—Exchange.

In journalism the most effective writer in the early '70s was the "Parsee Merchant," James Solomon Moore. Moore was a clever German-Hebrew, who had come to New York from Bombay. He had first attracted attention in 1869 by a series of letters to the New York World, signed "Adhersey Curioiboy." These letters, addressed to "Sahib Greeley," told of the adventures of a Parsee merchant who came to New York from India to buy goods. His theory in coming, he said, was that as the United States was the land where certain things his firm traded in were raised, they ought to be cheaper there; and as the United States bought jute, seeds, gums, etc., from India, he could establish a direct trade instead of the indirect through London. He wanted copper, but copper he found cost 5 cents more a pound in New York than in London. He wanted cotton prints, but they were 25 per cent dearer in gold than in England. He wanted enameled hides, but they cost 25 per cent more than in England. He went to New Haven to buy carriages, but the price was $1100 in currency against 90 guineas in London. He wanted iron: it cost 80 cents more than in England, 60 per cent more than in Bombay. He wanted sugar-mills. He could buy them in Glasgow $9000 (currency) cheaper than in America. He wanted wood screws, but the "wood screw sahib" laughed and told him he had better market at home than any the Parsee could bring him, and in it he could sell all he could make at from 70 to 100 per cent more than the foreigner paid. Discouraged, the Parsee wrote a series of over 40 letters to "Sahib Greeley," begging him to reflect and weigh the facts in his "great political economical mind" and explain to him why a policy which produced such prices for the people of America and made trade with foreigners impossible, was not stupid.

The prominence recently given to criminals in their trials recalls the instances of the pride aroused in a man out West who was on trial for stealing horses. He was a distinguished looking man, and a stranger coming into court before the trial began asked him: "Are you the judge?" "Judge, nawthin," said the man with an air of disgust. "I'm the man that stole the horses."

General John M. Wilson, formerly chief of the engineer corps of the army and now president of the Washington board of trade, has been personally acquainted with fourteen Presidents. He was born and brought up in Washington and his personal acquaintance with chief magistrates began with Zachary Taylor in 1849. He was a page in the Senate in the days of Webster, Clay, Calhoun and Benton. General Wilson is still active and thoroughly in love with life, though 70 years old.

A Washington man, wishing to take his family into the country for the summer, one day crossed over to the Virginia side of the Potomac to look at a small farm with a view to renting it. Everything was to his liking, and negotiations were about to be completed, when the question of hiring also the farmer's cow came up. It was an excellent cow, the farmer declared, and even after feeding her calf she would give six quarts of milk a day. "Six quarts a day!" exclaimed the Washington man. "That is more than my whole family could use." Then, suddenly, observing the calf following its mother about the pasture, he added: "I'll tell you what I'll do: I'll hire the small cow. She's just about our size."

THIS BIDE GUARDED WELL THE SECRET OF HER ELOPEMENT

Finally She Made Confession to Papa

CINCINNATI, May 20.—Congressmen Joseph Rhinock, of Covington, Ky., found out today that his daughter, Hazel, had been Mrs. John Richmond since December 1.

Mrs. Rhinock is a pupil in a fashionable hotel in New York. Richmond is a sophomore in the law school in Harvard University. He is the son of Mark Richmond, of Covington. He and his wife have known each other since they were children.

At Yale-Harvard football game last fall the Rhinocks were the guests of Mr. Richmond. The young couple found time to hold a conference then and decided on the elopement. They met in New York on December 1 and went to Jersey City. Young Richmond had secured a special dispensation from the Bishop of Jersey City, he being a Roman Catholic and Miss Rhinock a Protestant. They were married by the Rev. Father Ryan of Jersey City.

The marriage would have been kept a secret longer but for a contemplated trip to Europe. Mrs. Richmond did not wish to be separated from her husband, so she wrote her parents from the boarding school in New York that she was married. The trip to Europe has been postponed to June.

HE WAS ON THE VERGE OF BEING MARRIED TO HIS OWN DAUGHTER

KIO, May 20.—A strange incident reported from Osaka, with the disparagement of a wealthy merchant named Sakamoto, who was to have married next week to a pretty girl of 20.

Sakamoto, who is 42, was first married twenty-two years ago, but after the birth of a baby daughter he quarreled with his wife and deserted her at Omori, near Yokohama. He then went to a northern province and built up a lucrative business as a merchant.

His wife died two years later, and the daughter was adopted by a family living at Osaka.

A few months ago Sakamoto retired from business, and went to Osaka to live. He became acquainted with this couple, and finally arranged to marry their supposed daughter. He discovered quite by chance that his intended bride was really his own daughter, whom he had deserted nearly twenty years before.

Sakamoto disappeared after leaving a substantial sum for his daughter.

Some Lovely Pairs of Arms

Are Shown in This Trophy Art Contest.

At the start of The Tribune trophy journey it was predicted by many critics that the attempt to form an exposition of lovely arms of girls and women of Alameda county would be an undertaking destined to fail. No very logical reason was given for that judgment, and in that opinion there seemed to be a regular Mrs. Grundy protest. That it was a remarkably fashionable custom for maids and matrons to go about in summertime with arm bared to elbow and upper arm's outline naturally defined to shoulder by use of gauzy sleeve was a circumstance that did not appear to be in the calculation of these same carpers.

The rivalry of arms so inaugurated has been an unqualified success, as the readers of this excellent daily journal can testify. Handsome specimens of the arm feminine have numerously appeared here, and amongst the poses of subjects were attitudes as exquisitely graceful as wit of artist could conceive. During the remainder of the best arm show the public will be afforded opportunity to view pictures which shall reveal most charming contours and the postures of a number of the candidates for preferment will be voted as dainty and bewitching as ancient Greek painter or sculptor ever represented from noble living models.

"I have determined to be a volunteer in the comparison of arms," writes a Santa Clara avenue, Alameda, matron, "and my motives are quite selfish. I aspire to win that dozen pairs of silk stockings—$50 worth—which you offer to the recruit adjudged to have the nicest arms. Also, I shall strive to gain that box of gloves to be awarded to the one who shall pose better than all the others who compete. Moreover, my arms and shoulders are very pretty now, but I fear I am bound to get out of proportion—I mean, to take on too much flesh."

Reader, if you would like to enter the lists, and desire a free show photo order, send word to Phyllis, editorial department, OAKLAND TRIBUNE.

LIE LIKE A GENTLEMAN IN ORDER TO PROTECT A WOMAN'S HONOR

That Is the Opinion of a Chicago Judge

CHICAGO, May 20.—Judge Willard McEwen's declaration that a lie in court under oath was permissible, even justifiable, when spoken in defense of a woman's honor, has divided the bench of Chicago and caused no end of discussion. Judge McEwen, who is founder of the now famous "Sunrise Divorce Court," declared:

"Lie like a gentleman to shield a woman."

The judge believes in his own dictum, as is shown by his refusal to receive testimony in a divorce suit from a man who admitted wrong-doing with the woman defendant. Opinions of other jurists vary.

"A man who voluntarily takes the witness stand to blast a woman's reputation is so contemptible that he is beyond belief," said Judge Marcus Kavanaugh.

Chief Justice Harry Olson, of the Municipal Court, can see no way for a man to violate the oath that he gives on the witness stand, even to protect a woman's reputation.

Judge Theodore Brentano is for the man who upholds the honor of the woman. "I do not disagree with the sentiment expressed by Judge McEwen," said Judge Brentano. "It is an old sentiment, and often the woman is entitled to resort to the lie. Woman always gets the worst of it in life. A true man will always protect a woman at whatever costs."

"I can conceive of no circumstances in which a lie is justifiable," said Judge MacKenzie Cleveland. "The truth is above all else, and the man who deliberately utters a falsehood is guilty of perjury, no matter for what end he has lied or however disastrous the consequences may be to himself or to any other person."

"The suggestion of the 'gentleman's lie' appeals differently to the judge and the man," said Judge Fred Fike. "The judge can act only according to the evidence presented to him, and cannot encourage the crime of perjury. There is no doubt, however, that the man who deliberately betrays a woman's confidence is a scoundrel."

TOPERS ARE SAFE FROM THEIR WIVES IN THIS JUDGE'S COURT

Intoxication Is No Ground for Separation

NEW YORK, May 20.—The fact that a man takes an occasional drink or even indulges in intoxicants to excess is no justification for his wife bringing an action against him for separation, according to a decision just rendered by Justice Vernon M. Davis in the suit brought by Otilie Riess against Albert E. Riess, to whom she was married in this city on Dec. 14, 1902.

The case came before Justice Davis on an application for alimony and counsel fee. In her complaint Mrs. Riess asked for a decree of limited divorce on the ground "that during the past year of their married life the defendant, Albert E. Riess, became addicted to the use of intoxicating liquors to excess; every Saturday of each week during the past year the defendant would not come to his wife until the following Sunday morning at 5 or 6 o'clock, in an intoxicated condition, and would then quarrel with her; that he has neglected properly to provide for her, and that he had been cautioned and advised by a physician to give up intoxicating liquors; that when the husband does come home late at night during the week, except Saturdays, when he comes home Sunday morning, and without having eaten his supper at home, although the plaintiff patiently waits for him, the husband frequently wakes up in the night and asks to know the time and heralds the early morning so that he can go out to get his liquor."

Mrs. Riess' application for alimony and counsel fee was opposed by Lawyer Augustus P. Wagener, of Nos. 49-51 Chambers street, the attorney for Albert Riess. An answer was interposed in behalf of Riess in which all the wife's allegations were denied and affidavits were submitted showing the husband to be a sober, industrious, hard-working man, who drank no more than the ordinary man.

"But," contended Lawyer Wagener, "even if all the statements of the wife were true, they would not entitle her to a separation from the bed and board of her husband, for they are not such grounds as the law of this state says a separation can be granted thereon, and in such a case stating such grounds as are recognized by the law, her complaint was insufficient and no separation can be granted thereon, and in such a case the court has no power to grant alimony and counsel fees; it is only in a case where the probability exists that the court has power to grant alimony and counsel fees, and this not being such a case, and the positive fact being that the wife will not and cannot succeed, the motion for alimony and counsel fee should be denied."

Judge Davis, after reserving decision for several days, decided the motion, holding that the law of this state was as counsel had stated it and denying the wife's application for alimony and counsel fees.

HOWARD GOULD IS SAID TO BE LOOKING FOR ANOTHER WIFE

Said to Seek Divorce to Wed Actress

NEW YORK, May 20.—According to a story printed here Howard Gould is anxious to be divorced from his wife, who formerly was Miss Katherine Clemmons, the actress, so he may marry another woman, now on the stage, who has been in the chorus at the Casino, and who recently played in a production at Wallack's Theater. Gould's attentions to this actress have been marked. It is stated, and at the recent Actor's Fund fair in the Metropolitan Opera House he and she were seen frequently together, both of them riding to and from the fair in Gould's automobile. She is considered handsome and has a striking figure.

Her brother is quoted as saying that as soon as Gould and his wife are divorced this actress will be married to Gould. The knowledge that Gould is desirous of a divorce so he may contract a marriage with the woman who has supplanted her in his affections is said to be one reason why Mrs. Gould will ask only for a separation with alimony, and not for an absolute surrender of marital ties.

It is understood that her suit will go to a referee and publicity in regard to her evidence will thus be avoided. It is said that Mrs. Gould wants $12,000 per month alimony, while Gould is unwilling to pay her more than $6000.

With cheerfulness he'll roll his sleeves
And pitch right in to dust or sweep.
He'll pile the dishes in a heap
And wash and put them all away.
A large reward he ought to reap.
He's quite a model man, they say.

He'll beat the carpets, carry coal,
And in the garden dig and hoe
He'll tinker round with heart and soul
And buttons on his garments sew.

And women hand you a bouquet;
With admiration they will glow.

If You Want a Piano Read This

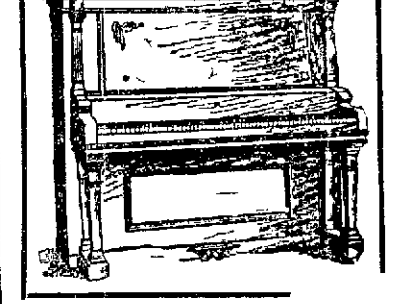

If there has anything been in the way of your getting a piano that obstacle has most certainly been removed by this Clearance Sale—at the prices we are offering no one need now go without a piano.

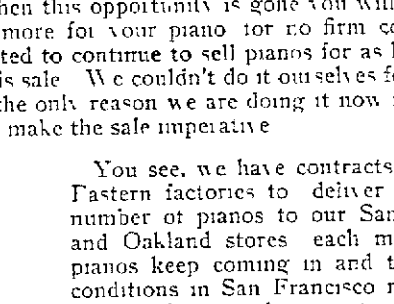

The prices have been reduced way below any figures ever made to the people of Alameda county before for good reliable guaranteed pianos. And the terms have been made so easy that any family can afford to buy.

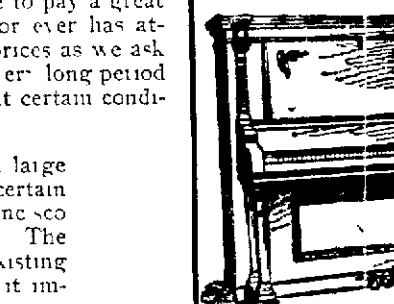

If you want a piano by all means come here and see what we are doing—see the piano itself—learn its regular price, and note the extremely low price at which it will now be sold.

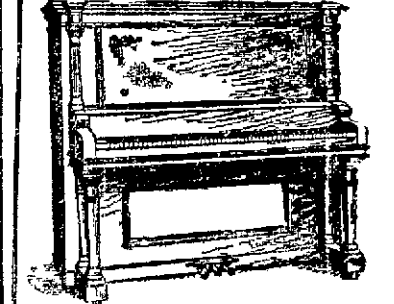

When this opportunity is gone you will have to pay a great deal more for your piano for no firm could or ever has attempted to continue to sell pianos for as low prices as we ask at this sale. We couldn't do it ourselves for a very long period and the only reason we are doing it now is that certain conditions make the sale imperative.

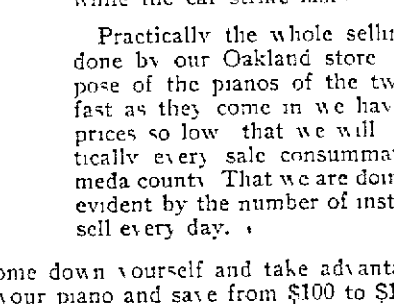

You see, we have contracts with large Eastern factories to deliver a certain number of pianos to our San Francisco and Oakland stores each month. The pianos keep coming in and the existing conditions in San Francisco make it impossible for us to keep up to our average while the car strike lasts.

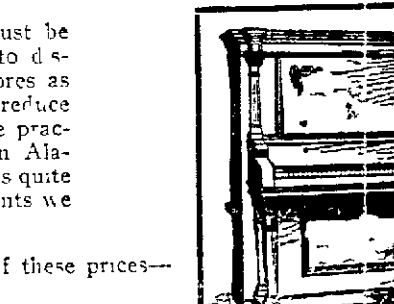

Practically the whole selling must be done by our Oakland store. So to dispose of the pianos of the two stores as fast as they come in we have to reduce prices so low that we will make practically every sale consummated in Alameda county. That we are doing it is quite evident by the number of instruments we sell every day.

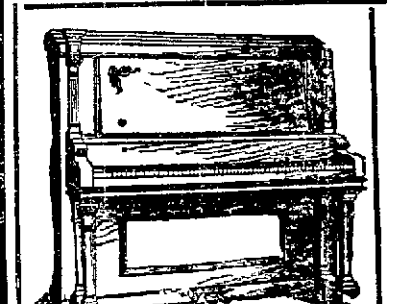

Come down yourself and take advantage of these prices—get your piano and save from $100 to $175.

At least, don't do anything in the buying of a piano until you first investigate our prices and see what magnificent instruments we are selling at the same prices as are asked for common, ordinary pianos.

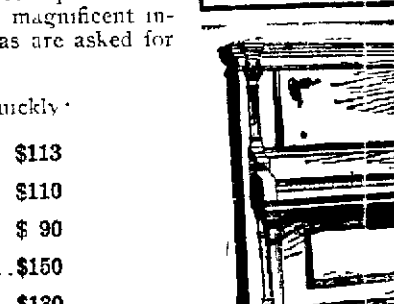

Look at these values—they tell the story quickly.

Weber Piano at a saving of	$113
Fischer Piano at a saving of	$110
Wheelock Piano at a saving of	$ 90
Kimball Piano at a saving of	$150
Albrecht Piano at a saving of	$130

Also Grand Pianos at a saving of from $150 to $335. Square Pianos can be had for a price merely to cover cost of repairs and cartage. The prices are $15, $20, $25 and $35.

SPECIAL PIANO OFFER

We are showing in our windows a magnificent Starck Piano, regular price $750. We placed the piano in the window last week and are reducing the price $20 each day until sold. The price tomorrow will be $670. Don't wait till the price gets much lower—somebody will get ahead of you.

TO BREAK JAIL

Ex-Convict Detected While Trying to Saw His Way to Freedom.

One of the most daring attempts ever conceived to break out of the city prison was frustrated yesterday by Captain of Police W. J. Peterson, Sergeant Walters and Jailer Cross, and as a result Fred Crown, an ex-convict, faces a term in the penitentiary and eleven other prisoners, also of bad reputations, are being feon on bread and water. Crown planned to saw his way to freedom. He was assisted in his attempt by other prisoners who were with him in a large cell.

Captain Peterson was standing outside of the rear of the jail, when he heard a peculiar buzzing sound issuing from the inside. He entered the jail and going to the cell made an investigation of the doors. A cut, several inches in length, had been made beneath the bolt which held the door. Peterson, Sergeant Walters and Jailer Flynn. Finally Crown stepped forward and drawing a small saw from beneath the mattress on his cot told the officers of his attempt to break jail. The implement used by Crown was a fragment of a hacksaw to which a wooden handle had been fitted. The saw had evidently been passed into the jail from the outside. Crown refused to tell where it came from. As soon as he heard the officers coming to his cell Crown stopped sawing and concealed the implement under his mattress.

The police say that Crown would have been unsuccessful as he would have had to almost saw the door in two in order to make his escape, besides scaling a fence at the rear of the city hall. The prisoner had figured that if he could knock out the bolts he could open the door and then he and his fellow prisoners would walk out to liberty.

Crown had taken advantage of the service being held in the jail by the Salvation Army. The attention of the trustees and the jailer were distracted for the time being, but Captain Peterson, walking around the rear of the jail, heard the noise of the sawing in time to frustrate the attempt to break jail.

Crown served a term in San Quentin on a charge of burglary, having been sent up from Los Angeles. A charge of attempted jail-breaking is to be placed against him and it means another trip to the penitentiary. Three other ex-convicts were among the men in Crown's cell, and all were serving long terms for vagrancy and petit larceny.

MAN UNDER ARREST
SAID TO BE CRAZY

BERKELEY, May 20.—August Guss was acting in a suspicious manner yesterday afternoon, mumbling to himself, swinging his arms, and making threatening remarks at the corner of San Pablo avenue and Carleton streets. Police officer Robinson picked him up and locked him up at the police headquarters. Chief Vollmer says the fellow is crazy, and should go before a commission for examination.

Of course, both sides appealed to the law of the land and the district beyond Seventh street settled itself down comfortably to waitness that which would manufacture history.

BUT this morning everything was changed.

When Judge Melvin called the case in Judge Ogden's court, Judge Hahn of counsel for Councilman Kahn arose and said:

HANN'S LETTER.
Editor TRIBUNE: As the Superior court of this county has decided that I am not entitled to represent the voters of the Fourth ward, the Council—sufficient ballots having been thrown out during the recount to overcome my majority of five votes—I will not further appeal the claim of Mr. Meese, my opponent, by appealing the case, or resorting to any other subterfuge. I will accept the decision of the Superior court as final.

However, before I withdraw into private life again, I wish to thank many friends who voted for me during the last election, and made it possible for me to take my seat on the face of the returns. If the intent of the voters had found legal expression in the ballot, I would still occupy a councilman's seat. I am ready to accept the intent, however, for the deed and will once again thank those loyal friends who stood by me in the thick of the recent struggle in the fourth ward.

CANVAS CHURCH
METHODISTS
EVANGELIZE

Rev. Dr. Evans Makes Opening Address of Series.

REV. E. J. BULGIN, PH. D., D. D.

The Rev. W. C. Evans, presiding elder of the Oakland district, presided at the opening meeting of the Revival Evangelistic campaign that was inaugurated last night under the direction of the United Methodist church of the city of Oakland. The meetings are being held in a canvas tabernacle for one month, which will be held for the purpose of conversion.

Dr. Evans preached the opening sermon last night and chose for his text several verses from Galatians, 6, 7, 8. "Be not deceived, God is not mocked, for whatsoever man soweth, that shall he also reap." He chose for example Abraham Ruef, the guilty boss. Dr. Evans said in part: "The statement of the Bible is capable of proof and the text is exemplified in our sister city across the bay, where Abraham Ruef, erstwhile political boss of San Francisco, whose word was absolute law in all municipal affairs, now sitting alone in his shame a self-confessed criminal, having abandoned the city that gave him his power on his way to the felon cell, is but reaping the harvest of his own sowing."

There are others equally guilty with him whom it would not be proper for me to name since they are neither convicted by the courts nor self-confessed. You think there is a God in the heavens, who will punish these men? They may go on for a while, but as surely as Ruef is reaping his harvest, so will they reap theirs.

Dr. Bulgin, who has been successfully conducting large evangelistic meetings in San Francisco, is the only speaker at these revival meetings. His mission here will be to convert people, but not to make away the strength of other churches. A volunteer chorus of 70 voices will render hymns under the direction of Prof. W. B. Gates.

COUNCILMAN HAHN HAS RETIRE FROM OFFICE

Gives Up the Fight in the Fourth Ward and Refuses to Take an Appeal to Higher Authority.

One of those spotless Goves of peace so grateful and comforting to all good newspaper stories sailed over Oakland this morning, poised on frozen wing and plumped its lily whiteness kerseawash into the innermost conscience of the fourth ward.

In the immediate vicinity, subsequently, statesman of variegated political persuasion forgot and spoke in subdued tones concerning the abrupt termination of a legal battle that since last St. Patrick's day had staggered along under the banner of the Fourth and represent its voters in the City Council.

But as it is all these things belong now to history. The courts have decided that Edwin Meese will in future stagger along under the banner of the Fourth and represent its voters in the City Council.

Former Councilman Hahn has refused in grateful, many ways returning to take the benefits that might accrue to him through the medium of appeals or other impedimenta of legal endeavor and as before stated the immaculate harbinger has folded its wings and departed. The banner of peace and self-paid for peace congress looks like a punched nickel at a church festival.

TARIFF ISSUE THEIR PROBLEM

Manufacturers in Convention to Take Some Stand Upon Revision.

NEW YORK, May 20.—Whether or not they favor a revision of the tariff, to what extent and in what manner, is expected to be announced by the National Association of Manufacturers, which convened today at the Waldorf-Astoria hotel. The question will come up in a report of the tariff committee of the association which has taken a poll of the 2000 members of the association on questions of revision, and the result of the poll has never been made public.

The convention will continue on Tuesday and Wednesday. A number of notable speakers will address the meeting, including Charles A. Proctor of the Interstate Commerce Commission, who will address the body on railroad reorganization, and Dr. Charles P. Neill, United States Commissioner of Labor.

ONE GOOD TURN.
"But I do love you," he protested. "Why, I'd die for you."

"But," she pouted, "I'm a brunette and I heard you say you preferred blondes."

"Well—er—usually I do, but I'm quite sure—"

"Still, if you're willing to die for me I suppose I ought to be willing to bleach for you."—Philadelphia Press.

LOAN SHARK IS SENT TO JAIL

Convicted Man Collected Big
Interest for Months on Small Sum.

KANSAS CITY, May 20.—Patrick J. Hughes, a money lender who formerly had branch offices in a dozen principal cities of the country, must pay a fine of $100 and serve thirty days in the county jail for exacting usurious interest from James H. Williamson, a printer. Hughes was convicted in January, 1906, of collecting seven and one-half per cent a month for several months on $10. He appealed, all the judges concurring, decided against him on every account.

Patrick J. Hughes is a well-known money lender throughout the United States. He is wealthy.

THUG STEALS WATCHDOG TOO

Ransacks Home of Mrs. Dilling and Takes Away and Sells
Her Canine.

ALAMEDA, May 20.—On complaint of Mrs. Mary Dilling, Charles Brown was arrested on a burglary charge. Mrs. Dilling alleges that the man entered her house at the corner of Clement avenue and Park street and stole some kitchen utensils, after which he took away the watch dog of the Dilling home and sold the canine.

Mrs. Dilling is somewhat of a local character. She formerly resided in East Oakland. At one time she was accused by the officers of the humane society of having tortured pigeons by placing pins or needles in the heads of the birds and then turning them out to die.

SAYS STETSON IS NEGLECTFUL MAN

Wife of Millionaire Tells Her Woes

Here is what Mrs. Eleanor Doe Stetson, who is suing her millionaire husband for divorce, says she was forced to tell to properly provide for her children.

Compelled to eat pumpkin pie three times a day.

She preferred salad and soup, but her husband insisted that salmon was the only thing with eating it.

Her daughter was denied the right to call her husband "papa."

She was compelled to pay half of the household expenses.

She suffered the ignominy of having her weekly messages of love, written during a European trip, ignored by her husband.

Mr. Stetson, she says, refused to kiss her on her return from an extended trip across the water.

She was forced to eat her Christmas dinner alone, while her husband dined with his daughters.

She was never an invited guest at social functions given by Stetson's daughters.

"I cannot say whether I will fight the action brought by my wife for divorce or not," said James B. Stetson, 35 years of age, yesterday when asked what he contemplated doing with regard to the suit of his young wife, Eleanor Doe-Stetson. "I have not had time to give the matter proper consideration."

"It is all very disagreeable to me and my daughters by my first wife as well. I am particularly displeased that they should be brought into the case and charged with controlling my actions and conduct toward my living wife and friends. But you may say that I refuse to discuss the matter in any way."

Mrs. Sallie Stetson-Winslow, the divorced wife of Charles Winslow and daughter of Mr. Stetson, who, with her sister, Mrs. Robert Oxnard, is charged with having caused her father to ignore all treatment and to properly provide for his wife, denied herself to interview at her home, 1845 Pacific avenue, Mrs. Oxnard and the husband are in New York City for the summer.

Speaking through her companion, Mrs. Stetson thinks more light on the nature of the testimony she is prepared to give in court when the cause comes to trial in the Superior Court.

"When I went to New York a year ago," Mrs. Stetson says, "I left a pair of horses and a brougham in charge of a coachman. While I was at home my husband and I used it jointly, I paying half of the cost of keeping it. It had been purchased with my money and was mine solely. Soon after I left Mr. Stetson sold it for $2,500. When I returned I asked him for the money and he refused to give it to me. Through a lawyer he finally offered to settle with me for $500 and I refused."

"REFUSED TO KISS ME."

"The only way I could get any value for what I lost by this transaction was by taking it out in board. Always I paid half the expenses of the house, but during the winter I was given credit to the amount of a few hundred dollars on account of the horses and brougham."

"When I returned from Europe last September my husband did not even kiss me, but was most unkind, continuing to refuse to be responsible for my necessities. His daughters gave a number of receptions, dinners and similar affairs, and never invited me, thus causing an insult on my position in society."

Last Christmas I ate dinner alone while he and his daughters took dinner together. He always insisted on supervising the menu and interfering with my arrangements for the entertainment of friends at our home."

No date has yet been set for the trial of the case, though it is expected that within a few weeks it will be placed on the calendar for an early hearing.

EDDY CASE IS POSTPONED

Presiding Justice Chamberlain's Sickness Delays Suit for Accounting.

CONCORD, N. H., May 20.—The hearing in the Mary Baker G. Eddy case, ordered for today, was adjourned to tomorrow owing to the indisposition of Judge Robert N. Chamberlain, the presiding justice.

Although the celebrated suit in equity to insure an accounting of the property of Mrs. Eddy has been a matter of record for almost three months, the first legal battle of counsel engaged in it was scheduled to take place in this city today when the arguments were to have been heard upon the motion of the trustees of Mrs. Eddy's estate that they be substituted for the "next friends" as complainants in the original suit.

BILL IN EQUITY SIGNED.

On March 1, 1907, there was filed in the court a bill in equity proceeding, being signed by George W. Glover, of Lead, S. D., the only son of Mrs. Mary Baker Glover Eddy; his daughter, Mary Baker Glover, and George W. Baker, of Bangor, Maine, a cousin of Mrs. Eddy.

These three, "next friends" in legal parlance, of Mrs. Eddy, complained against Calvin A. Frye, Irvington (Pennsylvania), Herman S. Irvington and Lewis C. Strang of Concord, Alfred Farlow, Ira O. Knapp, William B. Johnson and Joseph Armstrong of Boston; Stephen A. Chase of Fall River and Edward Kimball of Chicago, alleging that Mrs. Eddy is and has been for some time incompetent to do business or to understand business transacted for her by others, and that the defendants have possessed themselves of her person and property and that there is reason to fear that they have wrongfully converted her property to their own use.

On these grounds the plaintiffs ask for an accounting upon the part of the defendant and the creation of a receivership for Mrs. Eddy's estate.

On March 11 Ebenezer Y. In adopted son of Mrs. Eddy, and Fred Walter Baker of Ipswich, N. H., her nephew, were joined as plaintiffs.

CONVEYED ALL HER PROPERTY.

On April 7 announcement was made that on March 6, five days after institution of proceedings, Mrs. Eddy had conveyed all her property to a board of trustees, Henry M. Baker, Archibald McLellan of Boston and Joseph E. Fernald of Concord, N. H., three trustees asked of the court the right to intervene and be substituted as complainants in place of Glover and the "next friends" in the suit.

Counsel for "next friends" countered this step on April 6 by asking that the trustees be joined as defendants in the original suit.

To this, on April 16, the trustees made answer and prayed for a speedy hearing of their motion. On the same date the original defendants filed their answer to the original bill, entering a general denial of its allegations and claiming a lack of good faith in the institution of the proceedings.

MANY AFFIDAVITS FILED.

Meanwhile voluminous affidavits have been filed on both sides, including a letter by Mrs. Eddy herself to the presiding judge, expressing her disbelief in the good faith of the original proceedings and asserting that she had resolved even before the beginning of the event to appoint trustees in charge and control of her property.

Judge Chamberlain has granted already a motion made by counsel of the original complainants asking for fifteen days after his decision on the present proceedings to file supplemental bills and pleadings, and it is known that whichever of his decision is made, the matter will be appealed to the Supreme Court.

PROPOSE A FEDERATE
SUMMER SCHOOL

Arrangements for a Federate Summer School of Theology are rapidly being perfected by Professor Wm. Frederick Rode, who has been elected dean of the school. It is to be held in Berkeley, from the 2nd of July to the 2d of August. Five theological seminaries have united in establishing this school. In the order of seniority they are the following:

Pacific Theological Seminary (Congregational), San Francisco; Theological Seminary (Presbyterian), The Church Divinity School of the Pacific (Episcopalian), Berkeley; Bible Seminary (Disciples), Pacific Coast Baptist Theological Seminary.

Excepting the Episcopal Divinity School at San Mateo, and the Presbyterian Theological Seminary at San Anselmo, all these schools are located at Berkeley. Among the trustees will be Professors E. A. Wicher, of San Anselmo; H. H. Powell, of San Mateo; President Wm. Douglas Marford, of Hartford, Conn.; Dr. Geo. C. Adams, of the First Congregational Church in San Francisco, and Dean Wm. C. Rode, of Berkeley. This

Secretary Cortelyou Prepares to Furnish Treasury Loans
Immediately.

CHICAGO, May 20.—A dispatch to the TRIBUNE from Washington, D. C., says:

There will be no decrease in the prosperity of the country or recurrence of the panic conditions on Wall street if the administration can prevent. All branches of the government, taking their cue from the president, are acting energetically and harmoniously to maintain the existing satisfactory state of affairs.

The president himself, in the speeches he will deliver at Indianapolis next week, will address himself to reassuring the public as to the value of railroad securities, and will state emphatically that in the matter of manipulation he proposes to let bygones be bygones, and only endeavor to secure reforms to prevent a continuance of the evil practices.

Secretary Cortelyou is following the market with the closest attention and is prepared to furnish necessary support should the exigencies require.

TO LEARN DAMAGE.

Secretary Wilson has sent three experts to Kansas and Oklahoma to investigate the damage done to the wheat crops and is prepared to furnish a parasitical insect to destroy the devastating bug, but such action is reported to be unnecessary. The secretary is giving attention also to general conditions, and wherever possible to facilitate the growth of crop.

In the Department of Commerce and Labor, Secretary Strauss made arrangements for increasing immediately after the beginning of the fiscal year. Investigation into trade conditions abroad in order to provide new markets for American products. Every effort is being assisted by Secretary of State Root, who, now that he has settled temporarily the tariff differences with Germany, is arranging to effect there a permanent disposition in the treaty of reciprocity which will be submitted to Congress for ratification the coming session. The secretary also proposes to enter negotiations with France and China for the determination of commercial questions.

Altogether, Washington rarely has seen such activity in order to conserve the prosperity of the country.

project is attracting attention widely, because cooperation of science and a scale has never been attempted in this country. It will doubtless bring a large number of students to Berkeley during the summer months.
